SCC Students Win National Contest

A team of Audio/Video Production students in Ric Morris' class at Stuart Career Center recently won a national contest with their video "CTE Innovators." Arturo Martinez and Isaac Gonzales from Goose Creek Memorial High School, along with Luis Gurrola and William Munson from Ross S. Sterling High School, submitted their video to the Association for Career and Technical Education's CTE Month 2015 Public Service Announcement contest. They were recently notified by LeAnn Wilson, executive director for ACTE, that they had earned first place.

"We appreciate your hard work and dedication to promoting awareness of and appreciation for CTE, as well as the creativity and skill demonstrated in your video," said Wilson. "Together, we can raise awareness of CTE and programs that are preparing students today for the careers of tomorrow."

The video, available for viewing here, was shown to attendees at ACTE's CareerTech VISION event in Nashville, TN, and it will be featured in the ACTE newsletter and on www.ctemonth.org. In addition, the students received a cash prize of $500.

"CTE Innovators" also won first place in the Association of Texas Photography Instructors fall contest. The team submitted another video that won third place in the competition.

"I really enjoy teaching my students how to use the creative tools and then watching them create amazing things. It's incredible to watch them work through the production process from concept to completion," said Morris. "I'm so proud to see them get national recognition!"
