Rock Your Future event held at Lee College

Rock Your Future was held at Lee College to provide seniors with both college and career guidance. Approximately 65 seniors from Ross S. Sterling High School and Goose Creek Memorial participated in informative sessions.

Victoria Marron, Science, Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM) director at Lee College, kicked off the morning with information about STEM-related careers. Students moved to the Advanced Technology Center (ATC) for advising, completing the ApplyTexas Application for Lee College and participating in a GenTX Pay Your Way activity.

"It was a great opportunity because we had the college and career together, so students could get advising and learn about careers," said Renee Cosby, Career and Technical Education specialist at Goose Creek Memorial High School. "All the students selected are either undecided about where they are going to college or are planning to attend Lee College, so this was the first step in making their transition from high school to college."

During lunch in the Student Center, students listened to a presentation from Air Products. Afternoon sessions included career speakers, career videos and academic advising and were geared toward high demand careers, such as accounting, PR specialist, database management, logistics, finance management, marketing, and banking.
