Goose Creek CISD seeks business partners for Career Night

Goose Creek CISD is inviting members of the regional business community to participate in the district's inaugural Career Night, an effort to provide students with an opportunity to understand the educational requirements for jobs in our area.

The goal of the event is to help parents and students understand the importance of earning a high school diploma in order to continue to the formal training after high school graduation that is required for 85% of today's occupations.

Open to all students, parents and community members, Goose Creek CISD will host Career Night on Tuesday, March 20 in the Robert E. Lee High School Commons.

The Career Night event will be from 6 to 8 p.m.

There will be representatives from high school and post-secondary programs joined by business and industry to help students and parents learn the requirements to a successful career in the pathway of their choice.

Volunteer to help students learn more about your occupation.

"It is my hope to have high school, post-secondary and work force representatives to walk students and parents through the full journey to the career of their dreams," said Renea Dillon, Goose Creek CISD's director of Career & Technical Education. "We will have participants grouped together by career cluster area to allow students and parents to focus on their area of interest. There will also be training sessions to help students and parents design their four-year high school plan so that they get the full benefits of the courses and industry certifications available to our students."

The school district will provide transportation from Sterling and Goose Creek Memorial high school campuses to Lee High School for the event.

To reserve a table at our Career Night or for more information, contact Mrs. Dillon at the Career & Technical Education office at 281-420-3082.
