A Journey of Kindness

Harlem fourth graders donate quilt to Remington residents

Harlem Elementary School fourth grade students in Mrs. LeDay's class participated in a special quilt project. The project was an extension of a multiplication math lesson.

The project began with the students sharing a piece of fabric that was special to them. The pieces range from their favorite colors, hobbies, and designs. After arranging and sewing the quilt pieces in class, the students made the decision to donate the quilts to two residents at Remington Park.

The students visited Remington Park on May 12 and gave the quilts to two special ladies. As a classroom teacher, "My heart was filled with pride as I observed my students generously give the quilts, special hand-made cards, candy and drinks to the residents at Remington." Mrs. LeDay said.

In addition, the students read each card demonstrating what sharing really means. As I watch each student, I could feel the kindness and caring in the rooms. This small act was truly a journey of kindness.
