

Lamar principal moving to Cedar Bayou

Greg Lynd

Goose Creek Superintendent of Schools Toby York announced Thursday that Greg Lynd will be the new principal of Cedar Bayou Junior School beginning with the 2010-2011 school year.

Lynd has been principal at Lamar Elementary School since 2006. He replaces Barbara Ardoin.

Lynd has been an administrator and teacher with the school district for 20 years.

Before being named principal at Lamar, Lynd was the principal of Alamo Elementary for 11 years.

He also served as assistant principal at Austin Elementary for three years, and taught at Highlands Junior School for two years.

Prior to coming to Goose Creek CISD, Lynd taught at Kingwood High School for five years, and at San Jacinto Junior College for one year.

"Mr. Lynd has been a very successful leader at Lamar and Alamo, and is recognized by his colleagues for his passion for education and commitment to improving student achievement," Superintendent Dr. Toby York said. I have full confidence that Mr. Lynd will continue to build the excellent tradition at Cedar Bayou Junior School."
